ENGLISH DESTROYER SUNK

Trawler Lost, Destroyed by Germans —Division of English Ships Rush to Scene and Pursue German Craft in Running Fight.

London, May 3.—The Recruit, a British destroyer, and two German torpedo boats were sunk in a series of fights between surface and under-sea torpedo craft in the North sea. A British trawler, which was attacked by units of the German flotilla, also was sunk.

The Recruit was a small destroyer of 335 tons, built in 1896. She was 219 feet long and had a speed of 29.5 knots. Her normal complement was 60 officers and men, indicating that probably about thirty-five officers and men were lost when she went down. The four destroyers of the "L" class mentioned as having sunk the two German torpedo boats after a chase, are new boats, laid down in 1913. Vessels of this class displace 965 tons and are 360 feet long. They have a speed of 29 knots and carry three four-inch guns besides four 21-inch torpedo tubes.

The affair was announced by the admiralty in the following statement:

"A series of small affairs took place Saturday in the neighborhood of the Galloper and North Hinder Lightships. The British destroyer Recruit was sunk by a submarine. Four officers and twenty-one men were saved by the trawler Daisy. At 3 p. m. the trawler Colombia was attacked by two German torpedo boats from the westward. They attacked without hoisting their colors. The Colombia was torpedoed and sunk, only one deckhand being saved. A division of British destroyers, consisting of the Lafore, Leonidas, Lawford, Lark and others chased the Germans. An hour's fight ensued, and both the German torpedo boats were sunk. The British suffered no casualties. Two German officers and forty-four men were rescued and made prisoner. The French have begun a long

KING GUSTAF V.

Reported Seriously Ill.
Swedish Ruler Who Is

London, May 3.—A dispatch from Stockholm says that King Gustaf V. is ill, apparently with a recurrence of the stomach trouble for which he underwent an operation a year ago. The correspondent says it is stated that the illness of the king is of a somewhat serious character.

A commandment of the German fortifications at Metz, ten miles from the nearest French trenches at Pont-A-Moussin, which already has resulted in considerable damage, according to an official statement issued at Paris. New asphyxiants were used without effect by the Germans along the western battle front.

Rein reports that strong British and French attacks northeast of Ypres were repulsed, and that the new German positions are still intact. The German war office also records severe fighting in the forest of Le Pretre.

It was officially announced at Constantinople that the allied forces attacking the Dardanelles have been driven back with heavy losses. The Turks capturing all material and ammunition landed at Gaba Tebeh. Constantinople denies that the allies have made good their foothold at any point around the Dardanelles.

TORPEDO SINKS
AMERICAN SHIPGerman Submarine Destroys Oil Tank Boat.

THREE AMERICANS ARE LOST

Grave Concern by United States Officials Is Manifested Over Report of Destruction of Oil Tank Ship Off Scilly Islands.

London, May 3.—A torpedo sank the American oil tank steamship Gulf Light, 3,202 tons, off the Scilly Islands, according to a neutral news report. The Gulf Light left Port Arthur, Texas, April 10, to Rouen, France.

Mrs. Gunter, of Bayonne, N. J., received a telegram from the company, notifying her that the vessel had been struck by a torpedo, and that her husband was dead.

Captain Alfred Gunter, of the Gulf Light died of heart failure. Two members of the crew jumped, and it is believed, were drowned. One of the crew was injured.

The Gulf Light was sighted apparently in a sinking condition south-eastward of the Scilly Islands. Four trawlers went to the rescue and brought the survivors to the harbor.

The tanker arrived at Port Arthur, Texas, from Bremen on April 6, and sailed on April 10, for Douen with a cargo of 55,000 barrels of oil. She was last reported April 12, when 257 miles northwest of the Tortugas.

Washington, May 3.—Authorities here view with grave concern, unofficial reports that the American oil ship, Gulf Light, had been torpedoed by a German submarine off the Scilly Islands, south of England.

It had been the fear of officials that the German "war zone" operations would result in the sinking of an American ship, by a German submarine. It now appears that that was not only the vessel torpedoed, but according to information received here, three American lives were lost as a result. The case of Leon C. Thrasher, the American who lost his life in the torpedoing of the British ship Flaba, by the Germans, was regarded as in part raising the issue most feared as a source of complications by this government. The present case apparently constitutes a much more serious offense, in that it combines within itself not only an attack on the American flag and the destruction of American property on the high seas, but also involves the loss of American lives.

Officials here decline to comment on the dispatches from London, because they have not yet been confirmed by any official messages reaching the state department. It was pointed out that the matters involved are of too great consequence for official utterance, based on reports which may later prove to be either inaccurate or incomplete.

The vigorous note sent to Germany by the United States with reference to the proposed war zone operations affords, of course, the basis for the position the United States government may be expected to take in the matter.

DRUG MANIACS ARE VIOLENT

Resort to Many Deeds of Violence to Secure Dope.

New York, May 3.—An appalling situation in which drug maniacs are allowed at large, is Ernest K. Coulter's characterization of the present state of affairs in New York city. Mr. Coulter was asked what ought to be done to handle the many cases of drug victims, who, deprived of cocaine here and other habit-forming substances, are filling the city hospitals and stations to the crippling point. Worse than the strain on the hospitals, and the overcrowding of the jails, are the frequent deeds of violence in the effort to get drugs. In the last week there has hardly been a day when the newspapers have not chronicled attacks on shops, or assaults on people, by men crazed for the lack of drugs which they can no longer procure under the present law.

GREECE PRESS INDIGNANT

Declares Allies Refuse Guarantees of Compensation to Enter War.

Rome, May 3.—The Greek parliament was dissolved, and following general elections on June 1, the new parliament will open on July 10, says a dispatch from Athens. The Greek press is indignant over the refusal of the allies to guarantee compensations to Greece on the condition of her intervention on behalf of the entente power. Great resentment also is expressed regarding the present efforts of the allies which now are aimed to hasten Bulgaria's intervention. It is generally considered that a declaration of war by Bulgaria against the entente powers would be a serious blow to the entente.

NEW LYCEUM STAR TO LECTURE HERE

DR. ARTHUR WALWYN EVANS.

EVER AND ANON there appears in the Lyceum firmament a new star of striking brilliancy. Such a one is Dr. Arthur Walwyn Evans, a young Welshman, pastor of a leading Springfield, O., church, who, filling his first Lyceum engagements two seasons ago, brought down upon the bureau which had arranged these engagements such a universal flood of commendation as to lead them to believe that a new star had, indeed, risen. Last season Dr. Evans repeated his earlier triumphs, swinging round a widening circle and everywhere creating a furore of enthusiasm. This year he is booked for every night extending into late May. A Welshman by birth, he has the Welshman's gift of language, a richly musical voice, and a fund of rare wit which flashes like a Damascus blade, brightening his serious discourse until his hearers are at a loss to know whether to stamp him as a great lecturer or a great entertainer. Dr. Evans is a nephew of David Lloyd George, Great Britain's great statesman, and has an exceptional equipment for the platform.

AT NORMAL CHAPEL, FRIDAY, MAY 7, 8 P. M.

Colonel George W. Bain's
Book

Col. George W. Bain who is perhaps one of the best known orators in Kentucky has issued a book containing some of his best lectures.

The following editorial taken from the Lexington Leader of April 14th expresses the appreciation of the public of this book and meets with our own view so exactly that we reproduce it.

"Colonel George W. Bain, Lexington's most widely known and most generally beloved citizen, has published one of his popular lectures in book form, and that the volume will have a wide sale may easily be taken for granted.

In the list of lectures are to be found in the following titles: "Among the Masses, or Traits of Character," "A Searchlight of the Twentieth Century," "Our Country, Our Home and Our Duty," "The New Woman and the Old Man," "The Safe Side of Life for Young Men," "Platform Experiences," "The Defeat of the Nation's Dream," "If I Could Live Life Over Again."

There is not a man with an ounce of red blood and a fair amount of sane humanity in his veins who could not spend several hours pleasantly and profitably perusing the pages of this book. Colonel Bain has succeeded in doing what so many speakers are unable to accomplish. He has injected into his written lectures so much of the warmth and charm of his own lovable personality that the reader feels at once on the most intimate terms with him.

And when to this is added the sympathetic, optimistic and always kindly philosophy of this gentle man, spiced with humor and sparkling anecdote, his literary style approaches the irresistible.

For nearly half a century Colonel Bain has been a familiar figure upon the lecture platform in every State in the Union. He has stood always for everything that was typically best in his native State and sung her praises through the ages of time over the land. Not for this alone—for the book will be bought and enjoyed for years to come because of its own charm and value—but to a degree as a mark of gratitude and affection, the people of the Bluegrass should see that the volume is found in every library.

The Leader commends it to the young man and to the young woman. It will be well for them to get the wholesome viewpoint of life entertained by a man who has seen the world widely and who has been a keen and good-humored student of men and events. His closing lecture, "If I Could Live Life Over Again," ought to be read in every family circle once a year.

The volume is in good type, substantially bound, and sells for a dollar. It can be procured from Bain & Company, Lexington, Kentucky and doubtless from all book stores.

This book should have a wide sale for many reasons. Col. Bain has devoted his life to the cause of prohibition and the betterment of humanity, and now in his declining days, when he can no longer bring to his work the splendid physical vigor of his former years, those who appreciate his work and appreciate

BRITISH ADMIRALTY'S REPORT

Claim Made That the English Soldiers
Now Hold Strongly Entrenched Positions on the Gallipoli Peninsula.
Turkish Reports Have the Allies Driven From Nearly Every Point of the Peninsula.

London, May 1.—In an official statement just issued the British admiralty gives the first detailed story of the landing of the British and French troops for the reduction of the Dardanelles forts. The Turks made a desperate resistance at several places, but, according to the official account, the British troops now hold strongly entrenched positions on the Gallipoli peninsula as far inward as Krithia, about five miles from the tip. It is admitted that the landing operations cost the army a heavy toll of lives. It is announced that the casualties in the fleet, which supported the landing parties, are small, but on the other hand, official statements issued in Constantinople assert that several British cruisers were damaged. A British destroyer was sunk in the Narrows and that the French cruiser Jeanne d'Arc was struck by shells from the batteries and set afire.

A dispatch to a news agency from Athens says the British troops have occupied Gallipoli town, near the entrance to the Sea of Marmora. There is no confirmation of this report, but an official statement issued by the German general staff says there was continuous fighting along the front for two days. Troops were landed near Bulair, across the head of Gallipoli peninsula from Gallipoli town, but the admiralty statement is silent regarding the operations of this force.

In contrast to the British official statement, the Turks assert that the British have been driven from every point of the peninsula except Gaba Tebeh, and that the French forces occupying the landing have been entirely cleared of the invaders.

Official casualty lists of the Mediterranean expeditionary force include the names of Brigadier General Napier, who has died of his wounds, and Brigadier General Hare, wounded.

ALLIES' WARSHIPS HIT

Three British Cruisers and French
Battleship Damaged by Turks.

London, May 1.—The following official Turkish statement is forwarded from Constantinople by way of Amsterdam:

"Sixteen armored cruisers and many destroyers attacked our advance batteries in the Narrows. They fired thousands of shells on our batteries and infantry positions and wounded a number of soldiers. Two transports off Sedd El Bahr were repeatedly struck by our shells. One was beached. The British battleships Majestic and Triumph were damaged and withdrew from the fighting line. In the last few days the enemy fleet has undertaken no effort against the Narrows."

A later dispatch from Constantinople says that the British battleships Venetian and French battle cruiser Jeanne d'Arc were also damaged and an English destroyer was sunk.

Another German Air Raid.

London, May 1.—A report received from the east coast told of another German air raid. Lowestoft, on the Suffolk coast, eight miles south of Yarmouth, one of the points bombarded in Thursday's raid, was the scene of the latest visit. Four Zeppelins were reported off the seaport. Details of their operations have not yet been reported.

DUNKIRKE BOMBARDED

German Land Guns Now Within Range of French Coast City.

London, May 1.—Dunkirk, on the North sea in France, has been bombarded by big German land guns. Many shells were thrown into the city. Twenty persons were killed and forty-five wounded.

Another sensation came from the east, where it is announced that German cavalry, which succeeded in getting around the extreme right of the Russians, has invaded the Russian Baltic provinces.

Allies Gain in Belgium.

Paris, May 1.—The official communiqué says: "In Belgium, to the north of Ypres, our attacks have progressed along the whole front to a depth varying from 500 meters to one kilometer (540 yards to two-thirds of a mile). We have captured two successive lines of trenches and have made numerous prisoners."

INIMICAL TO GOVERNMENT

Declares Rockefeller's "Private" Correspondence Has to Do With Breaking Down of the Government—
Colorado Situation Reviewed.

Cincinnati, May 3.—John D. Rockefeller, Jr., states that he gave out private correspondence and that he did not have to give it up. I want to say that no correspondence has to do with the breakdown of government is private."

"New York city," Mr. Walsh said, "is the center of the potential power of the land. In that city is one man, John D. Rockefeller, Sr., the richest man of all time, whose more than a thousand millions preclude all the fields of industry."

Thus Frank P. Walsh, chairman of the United States commission on industrial relations replied to Mr. Rockefeller's defense of himself and his home in the Colorado situation, in an address here.

"The Colorado situation is controlled from 26 Broadway, New York, the office of the Standard Oil company. The history of this situation is a history of the exploitation of labor and of bloodshed."

"I have nothing but pity for John D. Rockefeller. He is a man who has stood him in good stead. From it one might consider that he is young. But he is in his forties. Now, I tell you he does not do a thing but carry out orders from Tarrytown, N. Y. Yes, it is indeed John D. Rockefeller, Sr., who is operating in Colorado. It is this old man, not the son. So if this commission does nothing more than lift the veil of mystery about 26 Broadway it will not have been in vain."

Mr. Walsh sketched briefly the situation in Colorado. "Mr. Rockefeller in his letter to me stated that it appeared singular to him that I was one to disturb the industrial peace," continued Mr. Walsh. "If the trial of Lawson and the Ludlow massacre is industrial peace then God forbid that we have peace. I fully agree with Mr. Rockefeller that the women and children at Ludlow were not shot, but were smothered to death, and I lay this at the door of the Rockefeller group."

"It is a crime in Colorado to fix prices, but in a letter from L. M. Bowers to J. D. Rockefeller, Jr., Mr. Bowers said: 'The Colorado Fuel and Iron company usually leads in the fixing of prices.' Mr. Bowers is now in the east. Watch and see if Mr. Bowers is brought back to Colorado and punished for what is a crime in that state, the fixing of prices."

MORE OF PLATT'S LETTERS

Roosevelt Subpoenaed Young Platt to Bring Letters in Court.

Syracuse, N. Y., May 3.—Edward T. Platt, a son of the late Thomas C. Platt and one of the executors of the Platt estate, arrived here from New York with a satchel full of letters that were written to Senator Platt by Colonel Roosevelt after 1894, and which letters that were written by William Barnes to the Easy Boss.

Mr. Platt was called upon by the Roosevelt side to produce these letters, which are said to be more interesting than the correspondence already made public. Whether or not the letters brought by Edward T. Platt will be admitted in evidence, remains to be seen.

The letters previously produced were given to the Barnes side by Frank H. Platt after Colonel Roosevelt, in testifying the first day east imputations upon Senator Platt's record. They were brought to Syracuse by Frank H. Platt himself.

Now the Roosevelt side, by subpoenaing the remaining correspondence, hope to offset the effect of the letters turned over to Barnes.
